Wear your statement

What you wear defines who you are - so make a statement with your company clothing! The clothes against your skin will impact your health, the environment and labour conditions of workers around the world.

Cottover has made an effort on sustainability in each step of the manufacturing process - from cotton to final product. As a result, the garments are successfully labeled with GOTS, Oeko Tex, Nordic Ecolabel and we use 100 % Fairtrade-certified and organic cotton.

We believe sustainability can be achieved one step at a time, starting with the decisions we make. Together we make it happen.

Thanks for choosing Cottover

"The Cottover cotton is produced in India and delivered by two Fairtrade Producers. The cotton is grown organically without using any chemicals such as fertilizers or pesticides."

WHY

FAIRTRADE-COTTON?

Cotton is sometimes referred to as 'the white gold'. More than 100 million households in 70 countries depend on cotton production for income. But life as a cotton farmer can be tough. Competition on the world market is fierce and the price for cotton has been in steady decline the last couple of decades. This is hitting hard on farmers in developing countries that have little or no means to compete with highly subsidized cotton industries like in the United States.

Fairtrade guarantees a minimum price for cotton which covers the cost of a sustainable cotton production. The farmers will also receive a Fairtrade Premium, which allows them to invest in community projects such as schools, roads or health care facilities. Fairtrade is a safety net for farmers who are poor or living on small margins.

When you buy products made of Fairtrade-cotton, you support the farmers as they improve their lives and their communities.

"A licence is only awarded to companies which apply for an ecolabel and whose product fulfil our environmental requirements"

Save the world a little,
every day

Nordic Ecolabelled textiles, hides/skins and leather fulfil a range of environmental, health and quality requirements. This means that requirements are set for the production of fibres and hides/skins, to the further treatment of the fibre and hide and onward to the finished textile or leather product. Recycled fibres may be included.

Both the production of the fibre and the use of chemicals during production are central to the criteria. By setting requirements for chemicals, through both limit values and the prohibition of a number of substances that are harmful to health and the environment, the criteria focus on reducing the environmental impact of the production and consider the health of both workers and consumers.

Requirements are also set for the quality of the textiles, through factors such as colour fastness and shrinkage.

"When you buy Cottover you impact the environment and labour conditions of workers around the world."

Cottover is certified with:

Fairtrade is about better prices, decent working conditions, local sustainability, and fair terms of trade for farmers and workers in the developing world. By requiring companies to pay sustainable prices (which must never fall lower than the market price), Fairtrade addresses the injustices of conventional trade, which traditionally discriminates against the poorest, weakest producers. It enables them to improve their position and have more control over their lives.

GOTS is recognized as the world's leading standard for organic textiles, which requires compliance with high-level environmental criteria as well as social criteria. GOTS applies to all production steps from cotton harvesting to the final product. All garments are made of organically produced cotton or recycled polyester and all chemical inputs are strictly regulated and must comply with environmental and toxicological criteria. The suppliers must follow the International Labor Organization (ILO) key conventions and the garments shall endure quality testing to ensure a long-lasting lifecycle. The GOTS monitoring system will ensure credible assurance by performing on-site inspections.

The Nordic Swan Ecolabel is a voluntary, positive ecolabelling of products and services with a common Nordic registered trademark, the Nordic Swan Ecolabel. Its purpose is to give consumers a clear and concise environmental product information, as well as promoting the development of products that are environmentally-sound.

Oeko-Tex is the best known label worldwide for textiles tested for harmful substances. Garments bearing the OEKO-TEX® label meet high human ecological requirements and are free from any amounts of harmful substances.

Lab testing and certification of the textiles is carried out exclusively by an independent research- and testing institutes.

Cottover wants to make the world a better place – both through our products and our company! Therefore, we support the following projects and initiatives!

ACCORD ON FIRE AND BUILDING SAFETY IN BANGLADESH

The Accord is a legal agreement to improve fire- and building safety for the textile industry in Bangladesh. More than 2 million workers are affected with the Accord improvements, which makes it one of our most important initiatives for social responsibility.

BSCI (BUSINESS SOCIAL COMPLIANCE INITIATIVE)

BSCI is an initiative for companies that are committed to improve working conditions in the global supply chain. The BSCI Code of Conduct contains requirements on minimum wage, working hours, prohibition of child labour and several other important criteria.

TEXTILE EXCHANGE

Textile Exchange is an international non-profit organization working for the responsible expansion of organic cotton production. While the demand for organic cotton is increasing, the available production is not sufficient.

HAND IN HAND

Hand-in-Hand fights poverty with entrepreneurship. In approximately 7 years - 1,7 million jobs have been created in some of the world's poorest countries. As a result, 5 million people are no longer living in extreme poverty and hundreds of thousands of children has been able to attend school. New Wave supports Hand-in-Hand with funds to enable three villages to participate in the project.

CLEAN SHIPPING INDEX

The Clean Shipping Index aims to impact the shipping companies to use cleaner vessels and reduce emissions of greenhouse gases and chemical contamination of our seas.
